Hi Steven,

My apologies for the delay. I have been out of town, then I was just behind on stuff.

Thank you for suggesting a cc license. It is definitely something we needed to do. We have decided on CC BY-NC-ND.

If you do end up using any of this, please let me know. We like to know about those things. Thanks.

Hi DART, thanks for thinking of us! This looks like a great resource.

What licensing has your team attached to this content? I think the spirit of what you're doing here, particularly since you reached out to me, seems that you mean for this content to be open and accessible to a wide audience. If so, you should consider adding a Creative Commons or similar license that lets the public know they have the right to use this content in their classrooms or other projects. In particular maybe you'd want to attach CC BY-NC which disallows commercial uses of this content, but should allow for most educational uses.

I'll keep this in mind as we plan for our next event, and will let you know if we are able to incorporate it. -Steven

Hello Steven Clontz,

It has been a while and we recently thought of your earlier request. We may have something that may be of use to that project. For all the EvenQuads honorees we now have individual profiles that are downloadable (for free) from our website. See the Deck 1 and Deck 2 honorees on our website. Mouse over the portrait of an honoree and it will flip over, on that back side you'll see "Download One-page Poster" click on that and you see the profile. Now it doesn't have the Quad Collector, logo side of the cards attached to it, but it has a lot of the biographical info for each honoree. I hope this is useful to you. ~DART
