

Deborah Hughes Hallett

(b. 1944)

Deborah Hughes Hallett graduated from the University of Cambridge (1966, 1970). She is now Professor of Mathematics at the University of Arizona and Adjunct Professor of Public Policy at Harvard University, having previously taught mathematics at Harvard University (1975–1998). She co-organized the Calculus Consortium based at Harvard University to reimagine calculus curricula, and is lead co-author on a calculus textbook used at over 500 institutions. Hughes Hallett co-chaired the International Conference on the Teaching of Mathematics (1998, 2002, 2006). She received the AWM Louise Hay Award (1998), the MAA Haimo Award (2005), and the AMS Award for Impact on the Teaching and Learning of Mathematics (2022).

This poster is part of the EvenQuads project, which combines innovative mathematical card games with learning about amazing women mathematicians. The project celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Association for Women in Mathematics.

If you want to learn more about EvenQuads, scan the QR code below.

EVENQUADS

