

Maria Klawe

(b. 1951)

Maria Klawe earned her PhD in mathematics from the University of Alberta (1977) and completed graduate study in computer science (CS) at the University of Toronto (1979). She is the first woman president of Harvey Mudd College, having previously worked at IBM, at the University of British Columbia, and at Princeton University. Klawe's more than 80 papers span CS, discrete mathematics, and gender issues related to technology. She has organized conferences focused on inclusion and diversity, is a Fellow of the ACM (1996), AMS (2013), AWM (2019), and AAAS (2020), was honored with a 2015 Lifetime Achievement Award from the Canadian Association of CS, and was named one of Fortune's World's 50 Greatest Leaders in 2014.

This poster is part of the EvenQuads project, which combines innovative mathematical card games with learning about amazing women mathematicians. The project celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Association for Women in Mathematics.

If you want to learn more about EvenQuads, scan the QR code below.

EVENQUADS

