Refer to your Group Management Agreement to remind yourself who is responsible for filling out this group assessment. Please respond to the following questions. You may ask the rest of your group members for input, but only the student(s) indicated in the Group Management Agreement for this week should work on the final wording, fill out, and turn in the assessment.

1. Refer back to your Group Management Agreement- What has your group accomplished thus far? Have you and your team been able to meet the deadlines?

2. How often have members of your group communicated with one another over the past weeks? How do you communicate with one another? Do you believe your group should communicate more or less?

3. Has your group encountered significant challenges? If so, can you briefly describe one or two of them? How were these challenges resolved? Have you been able to provide support to one another when problems are encountered?

4. What did you and you other group members learn from overcoming this challenge? How can you use this experience in the future?

5. What potential future research challenges does your group anticipate?

6. How can your group prepare for these challenges? What steps could you take to overcome them, should these challenges arise?
